Meet Eva Grace

Eva is eight-months old and courageously living with Spinal Muscular Atrophy (SMA) type 1. SMA is the #1 genetic killer of infants and toddlers causing progressive muscular atrophy and weakness. She is the sister of six-year old Noah and daughter of John and Melissa Kelly, (an employee of Advanced Radiology) of West Haven, CT. Today Eva rests comfortably at Yale New Haven Children's Hospital. Here she receives the assistance she needs to breathe and eat. It was the hope that with constant care Eva could enjoy life outside Yale at home with her family. Unfortunately, this will not happen as her SMA is progressing faster than anyone anticipated. Eva's Miracle was created by loving family and friends to help raise funds that will assist with the cost of Eva's medical care. While Eva may not be crawling around with her friends, you'd be hard pressed to find her without a smile on her face. Her infectious personality captures the hearts of everyone who comes to know her. Won't you join Eva Grace in her fight against SMA?
